To whom it may concern,

Enfer Scientific has been working with MXI for the past four years. During this period, MXI has provided Enfer with the highest level of service support. Alliance software has allowed Enfer Scientific to streamline our internal documentation system while providing high levels of product monitoring within our purchasing/manufacturing/material inventory departments.

On behalf of the staff and management of Enfer Scientific, and all other divisions within the Enfer Group, I would like to thank MXI for all the support and customised service that they have provided.

Enfer Scientific is delighted to recommend MXI to any business wishing to introduce an efficient system for data management/product monitoring and control.

Yours Sincerely,
